

Three listening programs

Unison 6 and 3 feature up to three listening programs for your different listening environments. As you move between environments – for example, from reading at home to lunch with friends – simply change programs for the best listening experience.

Just what you want to hear

Unison helps you enjoy conversations, even in noise, thanks to a dual directional microphone system in Unison 6 and Unison 3 that puts priority on sounds directly in front of you and suppresses those from other directions. Unison also provides pure sound quality by automatically suppressing very soft sounds that you don't want to hear, such as the hum of an air conditioner, and enhancing moderately soft sounds that you do, such as speech.

For 40 years, Unitron Hearing has been committed to making life better for people
